"For I am confident of this very thing, that He who began a good work in you will perfect it
until the day of Jesus Christ."
Philippians 1:6

Looking Back...

Dearest Kendra,

We are so very proud of you.

You have excelled in all areas of your life.

From the moment you were born, we loved you and adored you. You have brightened and filled our home with inexpressible joy and laughter.

We admire all of your goals and dreams.

You have made us proud of you each step of the way: Your music, your grades, your character, and most of all your acceptance with Jesus Christ.

May God bless you, your whole life as you follow Him.

All our love, always and forever, Dad and Mom

Romans 8:28

You are my baby and then,
You are my friend
You are the reason I go on
You are my dreams
You are my fears
You are the tears spared in prayer

Somewhere inside you know
You know I'm trembling
I've seen enough to be afraid, yea
I look at you and I
Remember myself searching
Let me prepare you for
What lies ahead

From mother to daughter
Everyday our love is so brand new
You're like no other

No one else can take the place of you
I thank God and I pray
He keeps you safe from harm
Cause when the working day is done
I long to hold you in my arms
Cause when the working day is done
I long to hold you in my arms

And I know what a woman
Has to face to survive
And I know there be some days
You have to cry
Let me wrap you in
The blanket of my love
Let me shield you

When the working day is done
I long to hold you in my arms
Cause when the working day is done
I long to hold you in my arms

From mother to daughter

A memorable trip for AAA's four year seniors takes place in the fall each year. It's a bonding time for those who have attended Auburn beginning the Freshmen year. From inner tubing and canoeing, to bowling and worshipping together, there was plenty to keep everyone occupied. Mr. Spano showed off his mighty boat driving skills and wowed the group! Some of the kids found an island with a playground, and then proceeded to play on the play set. From the moment we arrived, we knew we were in for a treat! It's a trip that will be forever engraved into our minds. --Marissa Minnich

ART

Walking into a room filled with paint brushes, high stools, and poster boards, this is when you know that you have entered Mr. Robert Renfroe's Art class. Hidden in the corner of Spady Hall, students would crowd the room every evening. As you walk in, the aesthetic art pieces on the walls will catch your attention. In this distinct environment; Painting, Graphic Design, Print Making, and Drawing classes is where it is being taught.

ENGLISH & SPEECH

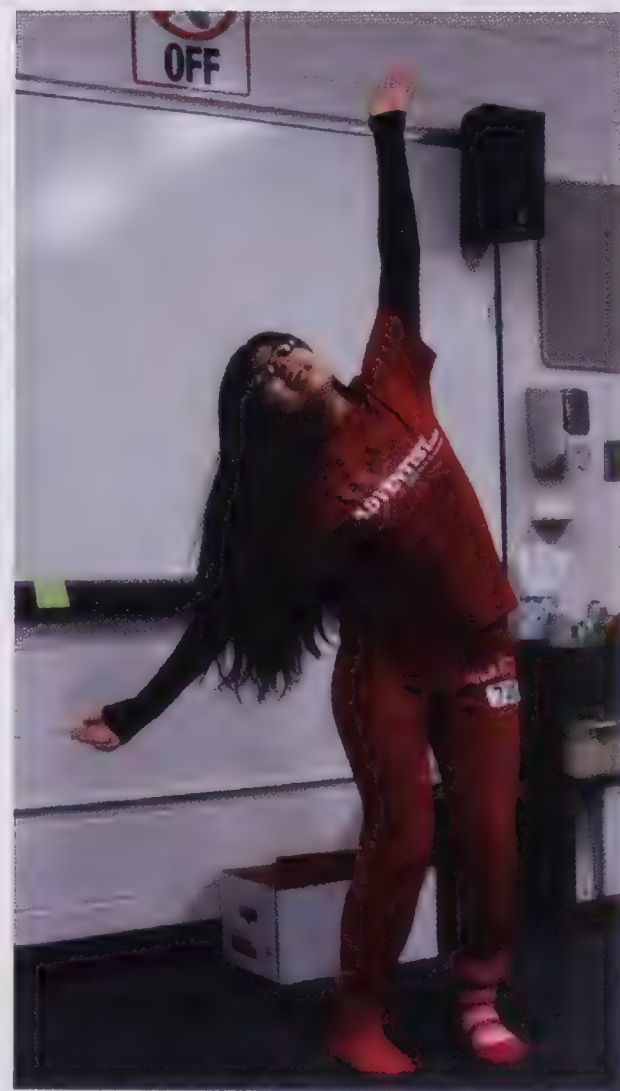

English classes at Auburn Adventist Academy are nothing like reading boring articles and answering long lists of questions. With our enthusiastic teachers, activities in class often includes role-plays, poetry recitations, project presentations, and many more. As students reach their senior year, they have the option of choosing a variety of classes. For example, Speech, Senior Literature, and multiple levels of writing classes. After four years of English at Auburn Adventist Academy, students leave with not only the ability to read, write and comprehend the complex English language, but they also take with them memories full of laughter. --Nap Poshyananda

Language is everywhere, it is essential to our daily lives. Auburn Academy offers French and Spanish classes as an excellent opportunity to expand on new horizons within the classroom. These classes allow students who desire that unique opportunity to explore the distinct history, art and culture behind each language. With Francisco Brito heading the Spanish department, Deserée and Olympia Lai took on the challenge of teaching their fellow students in second year French. Language is everywhere at AAA. --Deserée Lai

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The physical education program at Auburn offers team sports such as volleyball, football, basketball, and softball . The department also encourages individual progression with swimming, tennis, weight training, and other various activities. Achieving and maintaining personal fitness is a key goal for both aquatics and physical education departments and both continually strive to promote and demonstrate healthy living and choices. A few lucky students are offered lifeguard training which allows for an additional job opportunity on campus.--Deserée Lai

HISTORY & BIBLE

Auburn Academy Church Pastors Jay Coon and Bill Roberts generously volunteer in teaching alongside Bible teachers Francisco Brito, Nathan Klingstrand, and Walter Turner. Together they foster an approachable and personal environment where students can share and discover, while growing in faith and biblical understanding.

From 20th century to Government, AAA offers a variety of history classes which both challenge thinking and enrich learning. Kevin Ramkissoon, John Spano, and Bob Willison exemplify their passions for teaching within the classroom and strive to pass such excitement for learning onto students.

THE PAPER

It was in 2010 that the school newspaper became an extra-curricular organization, known as THE PAPER of Auburn Adventist Academy. Succeeding through the leadership of loyal students and dedicated writers, THE PAPER can make its claim as a quality publication superior to its predecessors. With more than twenty staff, reporting on the ground, THE PAPER strives to inform students, staff, and parents as to what Auburn is all about, and what makes our experience here at Auburn and in the world worthwhile. As the Academy moves into the future, the staff at THE PAPER endeavors to make the school newspaper an integral facet of Auburn and not just an observer on the sidelines. --Ryan Eusoya

PEER TUTORING

School is not always trouble-free. The peer-tutoring program at AAA is all about students-helping-students achieve academic success through student tutors volunteering time and brain-power to see friends and fellow students do their best. Be it a grand or minute educational quandary, knowing that this difficulty has been conquered as a result of effort put forth by both student and peer-tutor is rewarding, a resounding agreement by all who participate. --Deseree Lai

SCIENCE

Students in AAA science classes discover through experimentation, play with fire, fly paper air planes and measure the height of the church or clock tower while others travel to Loma Linda University or survey the campus grounds while getting college credit. Auburn Adventist Academy offers Math classes ranging from basic Pre-Algebra to complex Calculus. Our two Math teachers: Mr. Bill Ludwig and Ms. Michelle Weikum not only teach pure Math, but they try to incorporate fun activities that helps foster a better understanding of the material. For example; in Calculus class, we not only study the properties of pi, we eat pies too. Through these activities, Math at Auburn is unique! Nap Poshyananda

MUSIC

Students at AAA have many musical talents. Choir, Sylvan, Wind Ensemble, strings, quartets and piano keyboard allows students to improve these talents as well as showcase their musical abilities during events such as Parent's Weekend, Christmas Concert, Wind Ensemble dinner concert, and Sabbath church services. In addition, the Long Tour for both Sylvan and Wind Ensemble takes place at the end of April and allows students an opportunity to visit new places around the country while providing an inspirational music program and bringing glory to God through music.

STUDENT BODY

A word from the President

The ASB officers are responsible for planning a variety of activities for the school. Although this is sometimes challenging and very time consuming, it is also a lot of fun and is very rewarding. Some of the activities planned include, costume party, Christmas party, spirit week and the spring variety show. My favorite ASB moment this year was during our holidaythemed costume party. At the end of the night, we all counted down for the "New Year" together. Everyone had party poppers and noise makers and then tons of balloons dropped down from the ceiling. It was a perfect finale to a fun-filled evening.

Working in ASB these past two years has really taught me a lot of about leadership, organization, and responsibility. Also, planning activities and seeing the smiles on peoples' faces make all the long hours and late nights well worth it.

Eve

Having the privilege of serving the student body this year has been such a rewarding experience. Although challenging at times, God has proven Himself and this journey has been amazing.

Nothing stopped God's word from coming through during student week of prayer. All of the academy family; speakers, students and teachers discovered new meaning to the words "Lord, hide me behind your cross." The daily messages inspired students to be real with God and each other; giving every struggle and pain to Him no matter how battered or broken. These themes truly came through as students shared their hearts. Ending in three student baptisms, the week motivated, inspired, shed light, and truly invigorated Auburn's campus with a renewed fire for God. --Deserée Lai

WORK

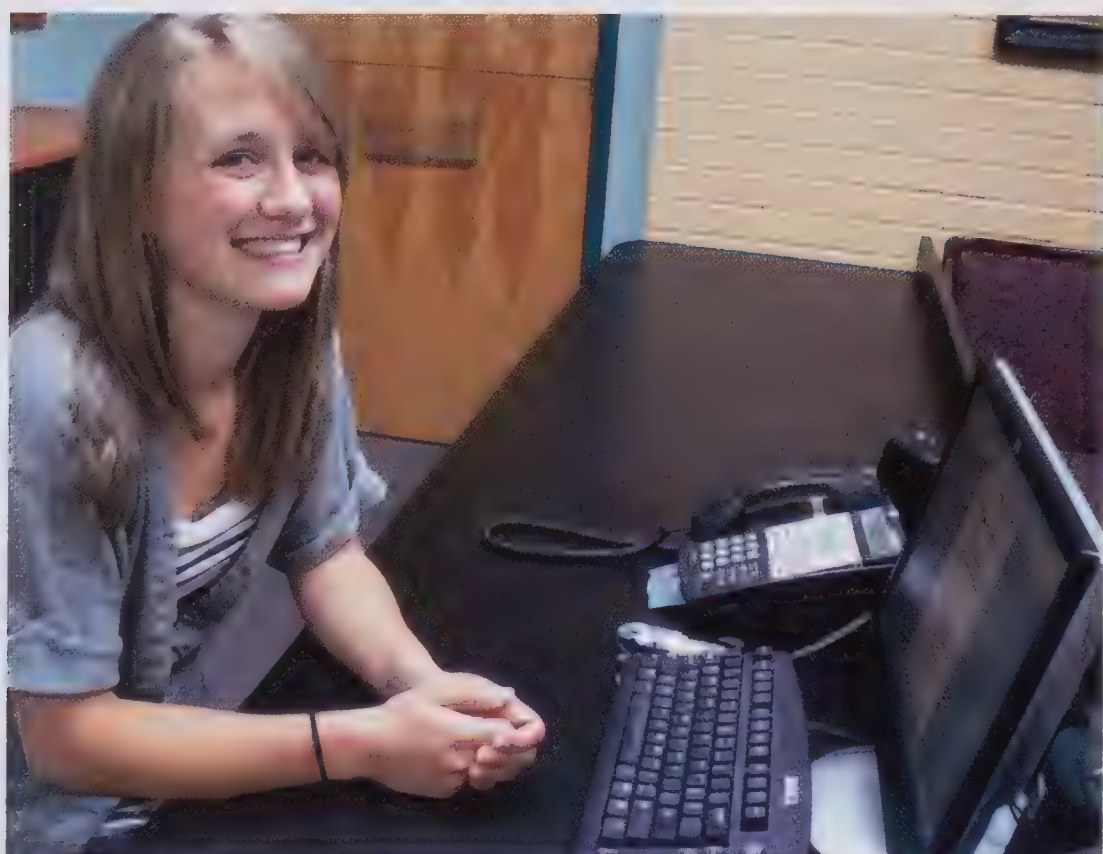

Maurice Pandjaitan

Administrative offices, Athletic, Music, and Academic departments, Campus Ministries, Cafeteria, Maintenance, Grounds, Public Relations/Development, and Dormitories provide students with student employment. Along with spiritual application, educational training, and social interaction, AAA offers students practical work experience which allows for the opportunity to gain hands-on work skills as well as connect on a different level with fellow students, teachers, and staff. The most beneficial part of student work? The opportunity for each student to explore their individual passions while gaining new abilities. Deserée Lai

AAA has an incredibly diverse student body. Aside from the U.S.A., students hail from Canada, China, Egypt, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Thailand, and Vietnam. For many of the international students, the new and exciting experiences that they encounter during the school year are quite diverse. There are always different highlights to each student's experience at Auburn, yet when asked, the overwhelming majority would say that they each come away from AAA with something that will last a lifetime—enduring friendships.

CASA LOMA RETREAT WEEKEND

Casa Loma Retreat Weekend, included both dorm and village guys as they gathered together for great food, fun, and most importantly, spiritual renewal. The main event was Friday evening when we met in Dower Chapel for an agape feast (pictured) put on by the Casa Loma Officers and the speaker for the weekend, David Cordial. Later that evening all the guys headed back to the airstrip for the annual game of capture the flag with glow sticks. Sabbath was filled with meetings and tons of great food provided by the Academy church members that the guys happily devoured. Sabbath was a day of spiritual focus ending with a service of silent foot-washing and prayer. All in all the guys were able to grow closer to God, and learn more about His Love for them.

During the time when most take their October home-leave, the AAA soccer and volleyball players traveled to Walla Walla University for the Fall Classic 2010. Women's volleyball advanced from their previous years and took 12th place in the championship bracket under volleyball coach and staff member Amy Kobberstad. With head coach Omar Grieves, the men's soccer team worked their way to the championship game and won second place out of numerous other competitors. With an exhibition of student talent and team-spirit, the AAA Falcon's truly did their best. --Deserée Lai

TEACHER'S APPRECIATION

Mrs. Debbie Trautwein, Nicole Riederer

This year, because of a stressed economic environment, Auburn was challenged to make some very difficult discussions that resulted in 6 faculty and staff leaving our academy. Each of these staff members touched our lives in big and small ways every day. To show them how much they were loved and appreciated, the Parent Council hosted a "Teacher Appreciation" evening. This event was a time for students and parents to come together and share thanks, appreciation and best wishes. The academy community shared memories and personal reflections. Mr. Carle, Mr. and Mrs. Kilgore, Mrs. Trautwine, Pastor Weir and Mr. Wileman contributed deeply to our school and our futures - they will be missed and we will hold their lessons in our hearts into the future. Prayer for our teachers

Over the course of four days, various upper classmen leaders of our school gathered with leaders from several other schools in the NPUC at Camp Mivoden in Idaho. While we were there, not only did we have breakout groups for specific leadership roles but we also had a school bonding time. A majority of our bonding time together was spent in the girls bathroom – since it was the only location we could find for our school group discussion. To leave the weekend with a big bang we created a hand made “Auburn” flag and raised it in front of all the other schools while the bell was being rung and the school song sung. ASB GETTING TO KNOW YOU

The Annual Four-Square Volleyball game

Purple, green, yellow, blue. On (date), the annual ASB-inspired class competition of the haphazard game "Anything Goes" turned out to be a huge success. The traditional debut ASB activity was filled with humorous dashes to the massive piles of blue gymnastics mats, healthy class tension, and surprised faces, mostly over the astonishing amounts of random and bizarre items each class possessed. With this unveiling into the new school year, the ASB team showed its leadership, while each class had their own bonding moments and laughter over teamwork and class spirit. Seniors led in points consistently throughout the evening, while the not-so-shy freshmen took a surprising second; sophomores and juniors following close behind. Deserée Lai

Each year, banquets offer students the opportunity to dress up, take pictures, and fellowship with peers on a memorable night. Who to ask, what to wear, and how to be creative are always top questions once the announcements go out. The ladies of Auburn always dress to impress, while the boys give their best shot at being gentlemen. For all, banquets highlight the year as glamorous and entertaining evenings to remember, as well as great opportunities to get to know fellow students on a different level.--Deserée Lai

Every year the girl's dorm invites all Auburn Academy girls and their parents to a "Parent Daughter" brunch. It's a time of laughter and giggles for all. From great food, to wonderful entertainment, smiles were seen all throughout the morning. One memorable moment of this brunch was the "How well do you know you daughter/parent?" game. Deserée Lai, Mr. Lai, Brittany Pugh, Mrs. Pugh, Lady Morah, and Mrs. Morah were our superb contestants. After lots of intense questions and funny answers, the winners of the game were Deserée Lai and her father! This brunch was a lot of fun, and in the end, families were bonded even more!

SPIRIT WEEK

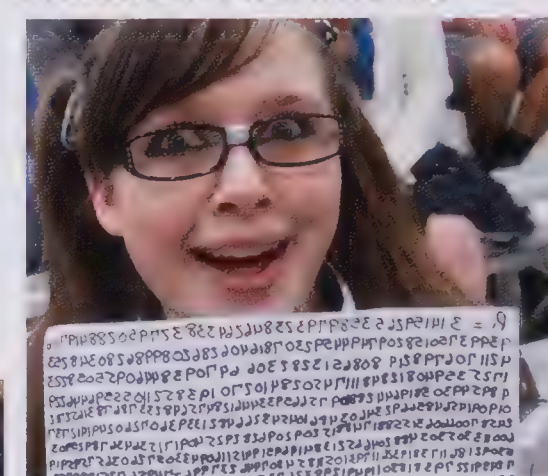

During the week of January 31st through February 4th, Auburn students demonstrated class pride, school spirit, and the grit of competition as freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors challenged each other for points to become "the class with the most spirit." The senior class of 2011 won 1st place for the second time in their class history with the sophomore class of 2013 following only a few points behind. Juniors took third, while the freshmen class bridged the usual gap for fourth and solidified their place as a promising class with energy and teamwork. Deserée Lai

ASB FALL FESTIVAL

During Parent's Weekend one can always look forward to the entertainment, great food, and games that characterize AAA's annual Fall Festival. Alumni, students, parents, and grandparents gather yearly in the Academy gym for an evening of fun and excitement. With Casa Loma's new "marriage booth," the senior class's Indonesian food, the freshmen's "photo booth", the anticipated Campus Ministries' dunk tank and more, Fall Festival will always bring an eager crowd, willing to support classes, clubs, and campus programs. Bunkers. Jellyfish. Color-coded bandanas. Sea foam. Glow sticks. The class of 2011 continued the longstanding tradition of heading out to Fort Flagler for a weekend of class bonding and spiritual focus. Guest speaker, William Hurtado, challenged the seniors to allow Christ to take them to the “next level” and grow in faith. Prior to Saturday night elections each presidential-team separated themselves from the large groups to practice until the evening when Misha Krushelensky and Kaitlyn Herman were voted president and vice president of the senior class. Open-mic night proved to be a comical relief, as well as an exposition of hidden talent, followed with ice cream, laughter, and a midnight trip to the bunkers with glow-in-the-dark necklaces. SENIOR DEDICATION

February 4th, 2011. Friends and family joined the class of 2011 for an evening of recognition and commitment for seniors in their educational and spiritual journey. Ms. Garlyn Wacker astounded and inspired the audience with her brief but powerful challenge to the class, while Lindy Elloway, Amandeep Sandhu, Michelle Skoretz, and Zach Sharman gave a humorous and enjoyable recap of the class history. The night ended with Walla Walla University hosting refreshments in the fireside room as cameras flashed and friends mingled. --Deserée Lai

Dear Keren

How to begin to express how proud we are of you!! You have become a committed follower of Jesus, an example to many, and a wonderful daughter to us. We have had so much fun watching you grow that we can't believe that 18 years have gone by. We praise God for entrusting you to our care all these years. You are very precious to us. We thank God for your musical talents, and for the joy that it has brought to our hearts. Keep singing to Jesus, even in days when it's hard to smile. Your name, as you know, was taken from the Bible (Job 42:14), and it means "jar for eye paint." We find this meaning perfect for you; for you have helped our eyes see the beauty of love, commitment, endurance, and fearlessness.

Hija Querida

You are a champion, and your ultimate potential is still yet to be seen. But we are confident of this, 'that he who began a good work in you will carry it on to completion until the day of Christ Jesus.' Philippians 1:6

*Te amamos mucho,
Mami & Papi*
